Double Degree students can choose from courses offered in the Master's programme Computer Science

In addition, students can take classes from the Master's programme Software Engineering and Management if they find suitable courses.

Students unsure about their choice of courses can reach out to the academic coordinator.

Students are also allowed to take as many free elective classes as they want (such as German Language Course).

Official registration for classes take place in most cases approx. 3-4 weeks before the start of the semester. More detailed information about course registration will be given during the Orientation period in September (for the Winter Semester) and February (for the Summer Semester).
